CAMP TWIN LAKES CONNECT COMMUNITY STANDARDS

Campers, families, staff, and volunteers of Camp Twin Lakes’ Online Programs are expected to abide by Camp Twin Lakes’ Online Programs Community Standards. Our Online Programs Community Standards help ensure that everyone understands our expectations when engaging together online.

- Actions – those participating should give everyone the chance to engage at a level that is comfortable for them and be encouraging when others choose to engage; demeaning actions are not permitted
- Attire – to ensure everyone feels comfortable, those attending Live content or uploading content should be wearing modest attire that appropriately covers areas of the body that are visible; attire should not have any advertisements that are related to alcohol or drugs, and should not be highlighting inappropriate or suggestive behavior
- Bullying – is not fun for anyone, let's be sure that does not happen by supporting each other; any form of bullying will not be tolerated
- Language – everyone should use positive and inclusive language; content (recorded, print, typed, etc.) should not be exclusive of an individual or group, no secrets, degrading, or foul language
- Outside Communication – we know that connection is important through camp, should campers or families want to connect outside of the online program the parent/guardian should reach out to their respective Camp Director to get information from a fellow camper’s parent/guardian; individuals are not permitted to share contact data within the platform, camp staff and volunteers are not permitted to engage with campers or families outside of the online program. Campers or families are not permitted to engage with camp staff and/or volunteers outside the online program. This includes but is not limited to phone call, text, email, live video meetings, letters, or any social media platform.
- Privacy – be sure that when sharing you are speaking about yourself or personal experiences; never post content that is embarrassing to others or share personal information about someone
- Respect – treat everyone like you would like to be treated, encourage others to try new things; disrespectful actions are not supportive of the camp community
- Safe Space – know that camp strives to be a safe place for everyone to talk and share, please help us keep that same spirit alive through our online programs

Individuals who do not abide by these standards may be removed from online program engagement opportunities at the discretion of the host or Camp Twin Lakes team with little or no warning. Camp Twin Lakes reserves the right to remove an individual for one occurrence or for the duration of their engagement with online programs.
